SYNOPSIS

Prinz is a materialistic basketball heartthrob. Her lady boss, Fairy, seduces and bribes him with a vast collection of basketball Nike shoes to love and live with her. Princess, his live-in partner and mother of his daughter can't afford one shoe for him to be happy. He abandons them with Amir, his father, who was also abandoned by her mom Queeny, when he was still a child for an older and wealthier man.

This breaks his father's heart as history repeats itself. Amir almost dies of heart attack. Fairy refuses Prinz to visit his father at the hospital. She starts to become insecure for Prinz seeing Princess again.

Because of this incident, Queeny comes back home and apologizes to Amir. He forgives her and accepts Queeny back. Amir in excitement picks-up Prinz but dies his way on a car accident. Inside the total wrecked car, Prinz sees a bloodied pair of Nike shoes with his name as a present. This breaks his heart more and feels guilty of his father's death on the eve of his parent's much-awaited reconciliation. He comes back to Fairy for refuge. But on his father's funeral. Queeny, her mom forbids Fairy to come inside their house. Fairy becomes more jealous and plans revenge.

Feeling lost and alone on her future father's in laws death, Princess decides to go back home to her home country for good with their child. Prinz stops her. The now obsessed Fairy tries to kill herself for Prinz not to leave her. The emotional blackmail continues and lies to be pregnant of Prinz.

Prinz decides to leave Fairy and his last request to Princess before she leaves is to help him gets rid of Fairy in his life. The battle between Princess and Fairy continues till the end.

In the absence of apple, which "shoe bate" will the Prince bite and be deceived? Whose gift of Nike shoes inside his father's car was? Will the fairy tale love story be a happily ever after with no strings attached?

THE PITCH

Prinz, an American basketball heartthrob abandons Princess, his live-in partner and mother of his daughter over his older wealthy boss who bribes him of material things and comfort including a vast collection of Nike basketball shoes of her deceased husband.

Problem occur when Prinz decides to go back home when her mom who abandoned him and his father when he was still a child comes back home. His father dies on a car accident on his way to pick him up for a much-awaited family reconciliation. He blames himself for his father's death.

Princess wants to go back to her home country and Prinz must prove his love to her and stops her to leave. The now obsessed Fairy fights for Prinz to be with her for marriage.

Fatal and romantic, Cinderella Man Wears Nike is a love triangle, not ever been shown on modern fairy tales. Audiences will be thrilled on a suicidal love of a Fairy and an affectionate care of a Princess.

Set for the first time in the beautiful island of Saipan, the movie is a love story anyone can relate to - finding your own paradise which is just around you.

Beautiful in the eyes, the spectacular views of Saipan - an island of fire stands as witness as story unfolds. A place never seen before in any movies. A breath of fresh air from an overly used Hawaii. Another USA paradise exists which is at the Northern Marianas where the deepest part of the world is located and unexplored.

Think "Fatal Attraction" and any other basketball sports movie with a touch of a "Cinderella Man" love story. Visualize "50 First Date" and "Just go with it", both shot in Honolulu. This time it well be showing the beauty of SAIPAN.

The Movie Theme Song

"You're my Paradise"

Lyrics by:

Oscar de Jesus Yema

Verse I

White crystal sandy beaches
Pearl like splashing oceans
Green virgin forest all over
Blue pristine water calm and clear
Rainbow colored creatures under water
Beach Road sunset on the side
Raindrops all year round
You're my Paradise.

Chorus

You're my paradise.
Beauty in and out
An American island
Of hope and dreams
So serene and quiet
An American dream
You're my Paradise.
You're my Paradise.

Verse II

Your beauty is extraordinary
Your kindness is exemplary
Your heart is pure
Your pride is humble
Your principles not negotiable
Oh! My Princess!
You're my Paradise!

Repeat Chorus

Verse III

Your gift is a vast collection
Your charm is full of pretention
Your power is a fatal attraction
Your guilt is just a fraction
Your anger is full of rejection
But I always come back for a reason
Oh! My Fairy God Mother!
You're my Paradise!

Repeat Chorus

Bridge

I am torn between two lovers
In an island of fire full of surprises
A paradise here, there and all corners
Why can't I appreciate the place is priceless?
I always choose something worthless
The paradise is in heavens arms
You're my paradise my dear princess.

Repeat Chorus

Coda

Paradise is just around you
The people who really loves you
Expecting nothing but you
Her paradise is nothing but you!
